Three Lessons We Can Learn From 1 Samuel 30

1. We are all interested in recovering that which has been _____ to us.
 - a. Our sons, our daughters, and our belongings which have been stolen away be the enemies of heaven, are in need of rescue.
 - b. We can not sit idly by and watch generations of our people be raised as pagans instead of honorable to our God.
 - c. They killed none of them, they meant to assimilate them to their ways.
2. There is a _____ to have those remain with the stuff and those to go out to fight.
 - a. It doesn't mean the ones who remain don't fight, it simply means they fight differently.
 - b. When we go out, it is a joy to know there is a reason to fight and something to return to.
3. Those who remain are given _____ portion with those who venture forth.
